What do we do or how do we react when events in our lives and the lives of those around us seem to be changing and we seem unable to respond to such times?

Whilst Jesus' disciples may not have had the same problems as we do, the various post-Easter stories in the Bible show us that they struggled to deal with Jesus' absence, basically they didn't know what to do next.

In the gospel stories we are told that they were scared and that they were dining behind locked doors fearing what might happen next. If the authorities could do that to their leader and friend, then who knows what could or would happen to them.

In John's gospel, he says that the disciples were starting to drift back into their old ways and of going back to their old jobs, because John tells us that Simon Peter told the other disciples that he was going to fish, and the others went with him.

Irrespective of whether the disciples were scared and behind locked doors or they went out to sea to fish the one common thread that ties everything together is that Jesus was there with them. The resurrected Jesus made the effort to find them, be with them and reassure them that despite everything that had happened he was still there. The cross did have the final word but not in the way that Jesus enemies had presumed.

And that is still the Good News of the Easter story for all of us, that in every experience we have, every struggle we face, whether it be in our personal lives or in our lives as a church family, no matter whether we are worrying as to what the future might look like for us, Jesus is still there for us. He comes alongside us, especially in those times when we least expect it, to remind us he is there and with us in everything we face.

Such is the power of His resurrection; such is the Good News of Easter.

As usual, it is both a pleasure and privilege to be your minister. If there is any pastoral need you have, please feel free to get in touch with me.

Communion Service

Sunday 2nd June 2024

For those of our members who are unable to get to church a home communion is available if you feel you want it or if it would be helpful. Please feel free to get in touch if I can help you with this.

By now, you will all have received the letter that was sent out in April informing you of the Kirk Session's decision to dissolve the charge of Ayr St Quivox.

Since sending out the letter the Presbytery Clerk and myself have had a meeting in relation to this, and the Presbytery are keen to help and support us. The matter is also in the hands of the Presbytery's Planning Committee, because if the charge of St Quivox does ultimately close it has wider ramifications for the local Presbytery Plan.

Unfortunately, at the time of writing this, I am unable to clarify the support that Presbytery has offered because it has still to be presented and discussed by the Kirk Session. Hopefully, I can update you and clarify things come the next newsletter.

I would like to remind you that it is business as usual within the church and for all of our user groups, everyone is still meeting, and I expect that to remain the case for the time being.

John

Our History

(expanding on what was included in the September 2023 magazine)

St Quivox refers to the name of the entire Parish, which has two churches: Auchincruive Church in St Quivox village, and Dalmilling Church on Dalmilling Road, Ayr.

Early on, the parish was known as Sanchar-in-Kyle - an area three miles north of the River Ayr and five miles inland. It was dedicated to St Kevoc. To distinguish it from Sanquar in Nithsdale, the Parish came to be called St Kevoc's, which became corrupted to St Quivox.

The name St Kevoc is unusual and its origins are obscure. It may have been referred to as St Kennocha Virgo in Coila during the reign of Malcolm II (Máel Coluim; c. 954 – 25 November 1034) and has also been spelt St Kevock, St Kenochis, St Cavocks and St Evox. The church was still known by this name in the 18th century. There are houses in the village with some of these names.

The church of Sanquar (now known as Auchincruive Church) was described as a Rectory in 1208. Scott's Fasti (new edition) says, "From 1221 -1238 the church of Sanchar belonged to the Gilbertine Priory of St Mary at Dalmulin within the parish. The monks left the Priory in 1238 and from then, until (the) Reformation, it was owned by Paisley Abbey."

Following WW2, the population of Whitletts was expanding, and new housing was built at Dalmilling and Whitletts. It was agreed that a 'church in the midst' was necessary. This church was designed to be an extension of Auchincruive Church and was built as a "Hall Church" i.e. one building with open seating, a stage at one end and a Sanctuary at the other. Dalmilling Church was opened and dedicated on the 2nd September 1953.

A further two halls and attendant facilities were added and officially opened and dedicated on the 21st February 1975. The main hall was named “The Wilson Hall” after the Wilson family.

In September 1981, a union took place between St. Quivox and Lochside Churches which lasted until 2008, when Lochside Church was joined with St. Columba Church, Ayr.

We had a great time at Holy Week, with the numbers building up night by night. And it was widely recognised that when we have a lot of people in church, (anything over 20 is a lot for us!!), the singing and the general atmosphere greatly increases.

As well as the Holy Week services, we had Dalmilling Primary in on Maundy Thursday for their Easter Assembly, and it was great just being able to feel the sense of excitement of a church full of primary school children, (and their teachers and assistants and families), who were all looking forward to the Easter holidays.

On the Saturday, we hosted the monthly 'Prayers for Ukraine and the world service'. Again, this was very well attended. In all, with all the various services we conducted between Wednesday and Saturday we had roughly five hundred people in the church, which was really good and exciting for those of us who were at all of these events.

To make these services what they were, we had a hard core, loyal group of workers who gave up so much of their time to greet, prepare, serve and tidy up, without whom the services wouldn't have been the same. In fact, the hospitality offered at the Holy Week services received numerous positive comments.

Through these pages I just want to put on record my thanks and appreciation for everything that everyone did to make these services the success that they were. There were definitely a lot of tired people come Friday night and Saturday lunch time.

As I've said before I may be the minister, but it takes a team to make the church operate in the way that it does and for us to be able to do the things we do.

And all of this is even before we get on to the Easter celebration that took place after the Easter service, which I am sure you will be able to read about elsewhere in the magazine.

Teddy Bear Tots 10th Anniversary

A fantastic day was had by all who came along to the 10th anniversary celebration on Easter Sunday. The grounds and halls were packed with people taking the opportunity to come along and support their local community.

There was a wide range of activities available from arts & crafts to inflatable rides and lawn games. A special appearance of the Easter Bunny was a perfect time to capture a family photo.

One of the most popular activities was throwing wet sponges at the minister who spent most of the day in the stocks.

As reported in the Ayrshire daily News on the 1st April "The Teddy Bear Tots 10th Anniversary Funday not only offered a day filled with fun and entertainment but also showcased the strong sense of community and togetherness that thrives within Dalmilling."

Teddy Bear Tots

Teddy Bear Tots 10th Anniversary

And they're off….

Striding and sauntering along Dalmilling Road.

Heading down into Sannox View and back to church for a well earned Certificate and snack time.

There are over 900,000 people living with dementia in the UK. Because people are living longer this figure is expected to rise to 1 million by 2030.

Support Dementia UK by coming along on Wednesday 5th June and enjoying a cuppa with some wonderful home baked cakes.

If last year's event was anything to go by it's certainly worth attending.

A fun packed time awaits all who join us for our summer fair.

If you are at church in the morning why not drop in and offer us your support.

Brownies

Brownies 1st Dalmilling Brownies

by Brown Owl Lise Whittle
dalmillingbrownies@hotmail.com

Many Brownie Units throughout Girlguiding Ayrshire South joined Renfrewshire Brownies for an amazing Brownies Sleepover at Glasgow Science Centre! Over 400 Brownies and their Leaders had exclusive use of the Science Centre after it had closed to the public on Friday evening, and we left before the Centre reopened to the public on Saturday morning. There was lots of fun (and not a lot of sleep) in between, and 9 Brownies and 2 Leaders from 1st Dalmilling Brownies signed up to join in all the fun!

We arrived by coach on the Friday evening and were met by the wonderful Science Centre staff who had organised timed programmes for each Unit. After dropping off all our luggage and sleeping bags in an allocated storage area, we had use of all the amazing interactive science exhibits throughout 3 floors. We watched a very funny and noisy live theatre Science Show presentation called 'Fantastic Forces', and several Brownies were invited on stage to take part in science experiments – not all of the experiments went quite to plan! We also had a lovely relaxing half hour in the dark Planetarium watching the sky at night projected on to the enormous planetarium domed ceiling, while a member of staff pointed out the different constellations and told stories about them. At times it really felt like we were moving through space!

We had time slots to visit the Girlguiding gift shop and a tuck shop. Later in the evening all the Brownies joined together for hot chocolate and snacks. After that, each Unit chose an area to put sleeping bags and mats on the floor – amongst the exhibits! We found a great spot near to the enormous glass windows overlooking the night lights of Glasgow and the River Clyde, and we even spotted the Waverley moored up outside. But it still wasn't time for bed – we had another couple of hours of playing and exploring the games and optical illusions, such as the wonky shaped room where Leaders ended up looking much smaller than Brownies! There were challenges and puzzles, and the Brownies didn't tire at all! However, we had been warned that the lights would go out at midnight, so before then we all got ready for bed and settled into sleeping bags on mats on the floor. Once the lights were out, we could look out of the huge windows at the wonderful panoramic view of Glasgow's twinkling lights, it was magical. Some of the Brownies fell asleep almost instantly, others took time to settle in the unusual surroundings, but it was a wonderful experience.

The lights suddenly came on before 6.00am, and it was time to get up and pack up our belongings. Then everyone met together for breakfast of muffins, juice, fruit, yogurt and pancakes. We thanked all the Leaders, everyone received a badge and certificate, and then it was time to get on the coaches and head back. The Brownies were much quieter on the way back than they had been on the way going!

What a fabulous experience, and grateful thanks to all the volunteer leaders for taking the girls for such an amazing opportunity.

The District is in great need of more volunteer Leaders for Rainbows, Brownies and Guides. If you are interested in volunteering, please get in touch. We are especially looking for adult Leaders to restart the Rainbows (age 5-7) and also Guides (age 10-14), and we have girls waiting to join. A programme is already available, and full training and support will be given. If you or anyone you know might be interested in becoming a volunteer Rainbow or Guide leader, please get in touch. For more information, contact Brownie leader Lise Whittle at dalmillingbrownies@hotmail.com or District Commissioner Janis Meredith at dcjcentralayr@girlguidingayrshiresouth.org.uk

I hope this letter finds you in good health and high spirits. I am writing on behalf of Annbank and Dalmilling Primary Schools, community-focused and dedicated to addressing issues of hunger, food insecurity and lack of access to basic household appliances, furniture and furnishing in our local communities. It has become very apparent that these communities would benefit immensely from this, as the recent economic challenges and unforeseen circumstances have left many families and individuals struggling to put food on their tables and not being able to afford basic appliances and household items. Our schools are committed to alleviating this situation by distributing food parcels and household items to those who are less fortunate.

We have managed to secure storage to enable the setup of a food and household items bank that will serve both communities.

We kindly request your support through food and household items donations to help us achieve our mission. Any contribution you can provide, whether it's non-perishable food items, fresh produce, household items or monetary donations to purchase food, will be greatly appreciated. Your generosity will directly impact the lives of numerous individuals and families in our communities.

To make the process convenient for you, we can arrange a suitable time for our team to collect the donated food items from your location. If you prefer, we can also provide information on drop-off points where you can deliver the donations at your convenience.

If you have any questions or require further information, please do not hesitate to contact me. Your consideration of our request is highly appreciated, and we look forward to the possibility of working together to combat food insecurity and create a better future for our community.

Sincerely,

Cheryl Smith

As Christian Aid Week approaches, we are highlighting the work of our partners in Burundi, through the story of Aline – a mother who was forced to leave her home because of her abusive husband.

She received training in how to establish a Village Savings and Loans Association (VSLA) and was given a small start-up grant. The training, coupled with the loan, has enabled her to start her own small business selling avocados and peanuts.

VSLAs enable communities to come together to save their money and apply for small loans to cover costs. Aline was able to put her profits into the VSLA and use the money to buy a bicycle.

The bicycle has enabled her to sell her produce further afield, thus increasing her profits, which have in turn allowed her to build her own home.

She is now able to care well for her family and ensure they get a good balanced diet and education, something that felt unattainable a couple of years ago.

As churches and individuals across the country get ready for Christian Aid Week, I want to say a huge thank you to you all. Everything you do this May, whether you're giving, acting or praying, is an act of witness.

Christian Aid Week

Seven days, so many ways to make a difference. There are lots of creative ways to support our work this Christian Aid Week. Across the country, churches and communities will hold events and services to mark the occasion or will be taking on the 70k in May Challenge. This year we're focusing on Aline Nibogora, a determined mother in Burundi.

The Kiltwalk 2024

Kiltwalk countdowns continue this month. The Glasgow Kiltwalk is now complete, but we're celebrating a great team of walkers taking part for Christian Aid. There's still time to sign up for Aberdeen, Dundee, and Edinburgh! As we challenge ourselves to have Christian Aid represented at all four Kiltwalks, there may be friendly competition between four parts of Scotland, but we'll all be walking together for justice.

Update on our Humanitarian Work

In the last three months funding from the Scottish Government has enabled us to reach crisis hit communities in Afghanistan, South Sudan and Malawi. Delivered through our local partners, the emergency cash grants allow people to buy the things they urgently need, like food and medicine. You can find out more about our emergency humanitarian work in our latest blogs.

What we do

Our work includes helping people to:

- claim their rights and access services such as healthcare and education
- ensure they are not discriminated against for any reason
- become more resilient to shocks and disasters such as drought, climate change and hurricanes
- make the most of opportunities, such as being able to sell their produce for a fair price.

The theme of the General Assembly this year is "Building Together" and the first act will be to officially install the Moderator Designate 2024-25, Rev Dr Shaw Paterson, who will succeed Rt Rev Sally Foster-Fulton.

HRH Prince Edward, the Duke of Edinburgh, will represent King Charles III as Lord High Commissioner at the event, which runs until 23 May and will be streamed live on the Kirk website.

Mr Cameron said the Church continued to stand at the forefront of communities, grappling with the profound impact of the ongoing complexities of our time.

Praising the valiant leadership shown by people at all levels, he added: "The Church is in the midst of necessary transformation."

"Limited resources challenge us, yet they also serve as a catalyst for innovation."

"Our commitment to future mission and evangelism stands undeterred."

"The Church shoulders the responsibility of supporting, resourcing, and serving our communities."

"The multifaceted nature of our work, from worship and prayer to engagement with society and the world church, and social care through CrossReach requires financial stewardship."

"It is not merely about meeting minimum obligations but embracing a narrative of generosity that transcends time, talent, and money."

"Our buildings, though cherished, must not hinder progress."

"Instead, they should become spaces that resonate with our evolving mission."

A puir wee kirk moose a' forlorn
Its furry coat fair sairly worn
Sank doon upon its bony knees and prayed—for just a wee bit cheese.
The tears ran doon its wee thin cheeks
But nane could hear the saddest squeaks
That drifted oan the cauld nicht air
Till whiles it couldnae pray nae mair.
Syne daylight cam, the kirk bells rang
The doors swung open wi' a bang
Communion day had come oan by
Wi' wine and plates o' breid held high.
The wee moose lay still as daith,
and watched it a' wi baited braith
Then thocht—if I keep awfu' quate, a bit micht just fa' aff a plate.
And so it gazed as roond they went,
Then jist as tho twas heaven sent
Whit landed richt upon its heid,
But twa lumps o' communion breid.
The staff o' life lay oan the flair,
then, bounteous answer to his prayer
Jist as he thocht, "It looks fell dry",
Ae body couped some wine forby.
Wee moosie stoated up the aisle,
wearin sic a boozy smile
The folk stopped singing', fair aghast,
Tae see a drunken, moose walk past.
The organist fell aff his chair,
the meenister could only stare
Tae see this drunken sinfu' moose,
cavortin' in his sacred hoose.
At last it staggered up the nave,
then turned and gied a happy wave
"I ken noo when it's time to pray,
I'll do it oan communion day".

Flowers in Church

If you have been attending church, you will notice that flowers are once more decorating both the sanctuaries. After the service, these flowers are given to people who are ill, been in hospital, are housebound, or have been bereaved. They are sometimes given to celebrate good news or birthdays.

If you would like to commemorate a special date by donating flowers, speak to Rosemary if the date falls on a day we worship at Auchincruive, or Pat if it is Dalmilling.

I thought of you with love today but that is nothing new,
I thought about you yesterday and days before that too.
I think of you in silence, I often speak your name.
All I have are memories and your picture in a frame.
Your memory is my keepsake with which I'll never part.
God has you in His keeping; I have you in my heart.

I think the same can be said of hymn books. We certainly have a few whose covers are worn and curled. I saw one this week where the front cover and side had detached from the pages. Elizabeth Brechany
